MORAL DEFEAT FOR JAPAN

MUST WITHDRAW TROOPS INTO RAILWAY ZONE

LEAGUE AND COERCION?

CHINA HAPPY—JAPAN VERY RESENTFUL.

Geneva, Yesterday.

Reviewing the proceedings of the Council, it is generally felt that Japan has suffered a crushing moral defeat, and that the position of Japan, from the very first, was untenable. The battle in the Council, toward the end, was sustained by three members only, Lord Cecil, M. Briand, and Senor Madariaga. Senor Madariaga created a sensation when he appealed to the Council not to forget Article X of the Covenant providing for respect of territorial integrity and political independence of all members of the League. Lord Cecil and Senor Madariaga very outspokenly condemned the attitude of Mr. Yoshizawa.—Reuter.

Geneva, Yesterday.

It is not improbable that Dr. Sze, after consulting his Government, may request an earlier meeting of the Council should Japan hesitate to withdraw her troops within the railway zone, in which case China, possibly, will invoke Article XV of the Covenant. Meanwhile, it is felt here that the League scored an important success inasmuch as the Council fixed the position of the principle from where it cannot recoil. So, either the Japanese have to evacuate the territories occupied before November 16, or the League will be compelled to seek means of coercion to effect such withdrawal.

Exodus from Geneva.

Mr. Yoshizawa, on leaving for Paris this afternoon, said he contemplated a continuance of negotiations in Paris with M. Briand.

M. Briand has also left for Paris, and the remainder of the Japanese delegation will be leaving to-morrow.

Dr. Sze remains in Geneva for another week, after that he goes to London.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai has telegraphed to M. Briand thanking him for his efforts to settle the Sino-Japanese conflict, and approving of the Council's resolution about it.

The Voting.

Geneva, Saturday.

The Japanese counter-proposal was first voted on and Japan was the only country to vote for it. The Council's proposal was then voted on and Japan was the only country to vote against it.

FINE GENERALLY.

The Royal Observatory's report issued to-day says:—The typhoon is less than 100 miles to the S.W. of the Bonin Islands, moving N.N.E.

The anticyclone, central over N. China, is strengthening.

Local forecast:—N.E. winds, moderate to fresh; fine generally.

Rainfall.

Rainfall for 24 hours ended at 10 a.m. to-day nil. Total since January 1—74.86 inches against an average of 80.12 inches—deficit 5.26 inches.

Temperature.

The temperature at certain specified centres this morning at 6 o'clock was:—

SHIP'S MASTER CONVICTED & FINED.

Plimsoll Line Case.

S.S. ON LEE.

(Marine Court.)

The Hon. Comdr. G. F. Hole, R.N., (retired), heard a case this morning in which Captain J. Mitchell, of the On Lee, was charged on two counts, as under:—
(a) unlawfully allowing his ship to be loaded to the extent of submerging the centre of the disc at the Ping On wharf, on Friday; and
(b) unlawfully neglecting to keep the ship marked with a scale of feet denoting her draught of water, on each side of her stern post.

Defendant admitted the first count, but denied the second. Giving evidence on this count, Boarding Officer Low said he examined the On Lee and found draught scales at the prow but none astern. After the vessel had discharged, he again examined the stern for scales but could not see any.

By defendant: Witness did not see any marks on the stern of the ship. He had hired a sampan to look for them when he could not see any from the wharf. In a statement to the Magistrate, the defendant said that he had had draught marks painted on the ship, and on several occasions, although the marks on the stern had not been obliterated, he had had them repainted so that they would show. He had found, however, that owing to the state of the sea and the swell, and the fact that the ship was low in the water, it was not possible to paint the marks on the stern in the same manner as forward.

His Worship adjourned the Court in order to inspect the ship, and on resuming convicted the defendant on both counts. On (a) a fine of $250 was imposed, or three weeks' imprisonment; and on (b) a fine of $50 or three weeks' imprisonment in default.

OPIUM SMUGGLING.

Arrested on Saturday, whilst going ashore from off the s.s. Tonkin, which had arrived here from Haiphong, the boatswain and carpenter, both Annamites, were found to be carrying opium tucked under their clothing. They were brought before Mr. W. Schofield this morning and both pleaded guilty. They stated that their pay was very small and thought they could earn a little more in this way. The boatswain was fined $1,300 or seven months, whilst a fine of $1,200 or six months' jail was given the carpenter.

measures of success which had been reached."

Mr. Yoshizawa also paid a tribute to M. Briand's wisdom and impartiality.

Tributes.

Dr. Sze feared that there was little likelihood of any improvement in the situation because Japan insisted that the Sino-Japanese negotiations should precede the withdrawal of Japanese troops and the making of satisfactory arrangements under the auspices of the League for compensation for damage sustained by Chinese in Manchuria since September 18.

Dr. Sze was therefore of the opinion that the period of adjournment until November 16 was too long, and China reserved the right to call an earlier meeting should the process of withdrawal not proceed satisfactorily.

Closing Speeches.

M. Briand, in his closing speech urged the Chinese and Japanese

NEWS TABLOIDS.

The Master of the s.s. On Lee was to-day convicted and fined for overloading his ship so that she was submerged above the Plimsoll line; also for neglecting to have marked clearly on either side of the ship's stern post a scale of feet to denote her draught of water.

The Rev. E. A. Armstrong preached his farewell sermon in St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, last night, following which two presentations were made in the Church hall.

On the eve of the Settlement a boomlet in local shares is reported.

The Hoi Fook and Hoi Hong, two motor boats built by the South China Motor Shipbuilding and Repairing Works Ltd., for the Hoi Fook Shipping Co., were launched this morning. Capt. G. Brandt, in the presence of a large gathering, released them for the water.

A motor car belonging to Mr. P. K. Lew was parked last night in the stand opposite to the Y.M.C.A. Kowloon. When the owner returned a few hours later, the car had vanished.

Japan has suffered a crushing moral defeat, and the League's decision has caused widespread resentment in Japan. On the other hand, China to-day rejoices.

The League is held to have scored an important success, having fixed the position of a principle from which it now cannot recoil. Thus, if Japan does not withdraw her troops into the railway zone by November 16, the League must find means of enforcing such withdrawal.

Negotiations are to be continued. It is said, in Paris, and the next meeting may be held there.

Japan's possible secession from the League is being discussed, and should this occur, as it has been hinted at on more than one occasion, it will be, it is said, a very grave blow at the main purpose of the Disarmament Conference to be held in February.

Polling Day at Home is to-morrow. The final appeals of political leaders have been made. A brief summary appears elsewhere on this page.

TO-DAY'S LAUNCHING CEREMONY.

Two Locally Built Motor Boats.

CAPT. BRANDT OFFICIATES.

A launching ceremony took place at the Yard of the South China Motor Shipbuilding & Repairing Works, Ltd., at To Kwa Wan this morning in the presence of a large gathering. The two motor vessels, the Hoi Fook and Hoi Hong, amid cheers and firecrackers, taking the water in fine style.

Capt. G. Brandt, of Messrs. Brandt & Co., who are General Managers for both the Ship Yard and the Hoi Fook Shipping Co., for whom the boats were built, performed the ceremony.

To-day's function was the first double launching in the annals of the company, and incidentally the first official launching.

The two boats are of the same design, and intended for cargo carrying between Hong Kong and Wuchow. They are also equipped for towing purposes. They are of the steel twin screw type, each equipped with two two-stroke high compression Diesel engines, and capable of an approximate speed of eight to nine knots. Special Mannesman steel tubular derricks are fitted for loading purposes, one having a 10 ton lift and the other a two-ton lift. The windlasses are driven by Deutz engines through chain gearing, and both vessels are lit throughout by electricity. Crew space for twenty men is provided, and special large hatches have been made to facilitate the loading of bulky cargo.

The dimensions of each boat is:—Length overall, 135 feet 3 inches; beam, 25 feet 7 inches; and draught, 7 feet 3 inches with a load of 300 tons.

Among those present were:—Dr. B. Hahn (German Consul), Mr. Neidt, Mr. Ferraloli (Italian Consul), Mr. and Mrs. Provana Piovaneli, Mr. and Mrs. V. Singor, Miss Six, Rev. Father Banchio, Rev. Father Granelli, Rev. Father Kerec, Dr. Ing. Pecorari, Mr. De Dionigi, Mr. Moldeberg, Mr. Morhinweg, Mr. Ho Kwong, Mr. Peter Tsui, Mr. Kok Njam-lin, Mr. Young, and Mr. Haslett.

The band of the St. Louis Industrial School was in attendance.

MOTOR CAR STOLEN FROM PARKING STAND.

According to a Police report to-day, Mr. P. K. Lew, of 775 Nathan Road, left his Morris Oxford sedan car, at the parking stand opposite the Kowloon Fire Station, last night, but when he returned later found "it missing." The car is valued at $600.

The German steamer Gratia and a Soviet submarine came into collision in the Gulf of Finland on Saturday. The submarine sank, but its crew was rescued. A later message contradicts the sinking report.

Signor Grandi (Italian Foreign Minister) is at present in Berlin holding conversations with German Ministers.

The boatswain and carpenter of the s.s. Tonkin pleaded guilty to smuggling opium ashore. They were arrested on Saturday. Heavy fines were imposed.

AS POLLING DAY DRAWS NEAR

POLITICAL LEADERS' FINAL APPEALS

NATIONAL OR LABOUR?

TO-MORROW—TEST OF NATION'S GOOD SENSE.

Mr. Snowden says, "Return of Labour Party will be an irreparable disaster."

Mr. Lloyd George says, issue is whether Britain shall continue as pioneer of human progress, or fall back eighty years to the level of the protectionist countries of Europe.

Mr. Henderson promises reconstruction of national life, so that national well-being will come before private advantage.

Mr. Baldwin says, he and Mr. MacDonald will work together loyally.

Lord Irwin says the impression which Britain made on the world was of vital importance to world stability.

Mr. MacDonald says it is his intention to determine, as soon as possible, the level at which sterling shall be stabilised; remedy the "mad" economic condition of to-day; and review peace treaties.

London, Yesterday.

The eve of Polling Day has been signalled by the issue of final messages by political leaders to the electorate.

Mr. Philip Snowden declares that the "return of the Labour Party will be an irreparable disaster to the country." He says, from all the news he has received, the overwhelming majority of the country has made up its mind to vote for the National Government.

Mr. Lloyd George in his "last appeal to follow Liberals" declares that the fate of the country is in their hands. The issue is, he says, whether Britain is to continue as the pioneer of human progress, or spring back eighty years to the level of the protectionist countries of Europe.

Premier's Final Message.

Mr. MacDonald, with unflinching energy, attended to his official despatch box, and delivered three speeches yesterday. He wound up with a final broadcast of the Government's case, in which he dealt with its intention to determine as soon as possible the level at which sterling shall be stabilised, and to take the earliest international action to remedy the "mad" economic situation, and to review the peace treaties "that brought us nearer and nearer to the oozing bogs in which we are floundering."

Lord Irwin Speaks.

Rugby, Yesterday. Mr. MacDonald returned yesterday to his own constituency and had an enthusiastic reception at three meetings.

Mr. Baldwin at York said a great crisis had brought him and MacDonald together in one Government and they would work together loyally.

Lord Irwin spoke at Doncaster in support of the National Government last night, declaring that the impression which Britain made on the world was of vital importance to world stability.

As Tuesday draws nearer all parties are concentrating on getting their supporters to the poll.

Labour Party's Prescription.

Last night Mr. Henderson presented the case for the Labour Party over the wireless. Mr. Henderson asserted that world capitalism had broken down even in countries where its authority was thought most secure, and described the remedy of the Labour Party as planned for the reconstruction of National life, which would put National well-being before private advantage.

He denied the suggestion that the return of the Labour Govern-

What Mail Reviewers Say.

"OUR BLUSHING BRIDES."

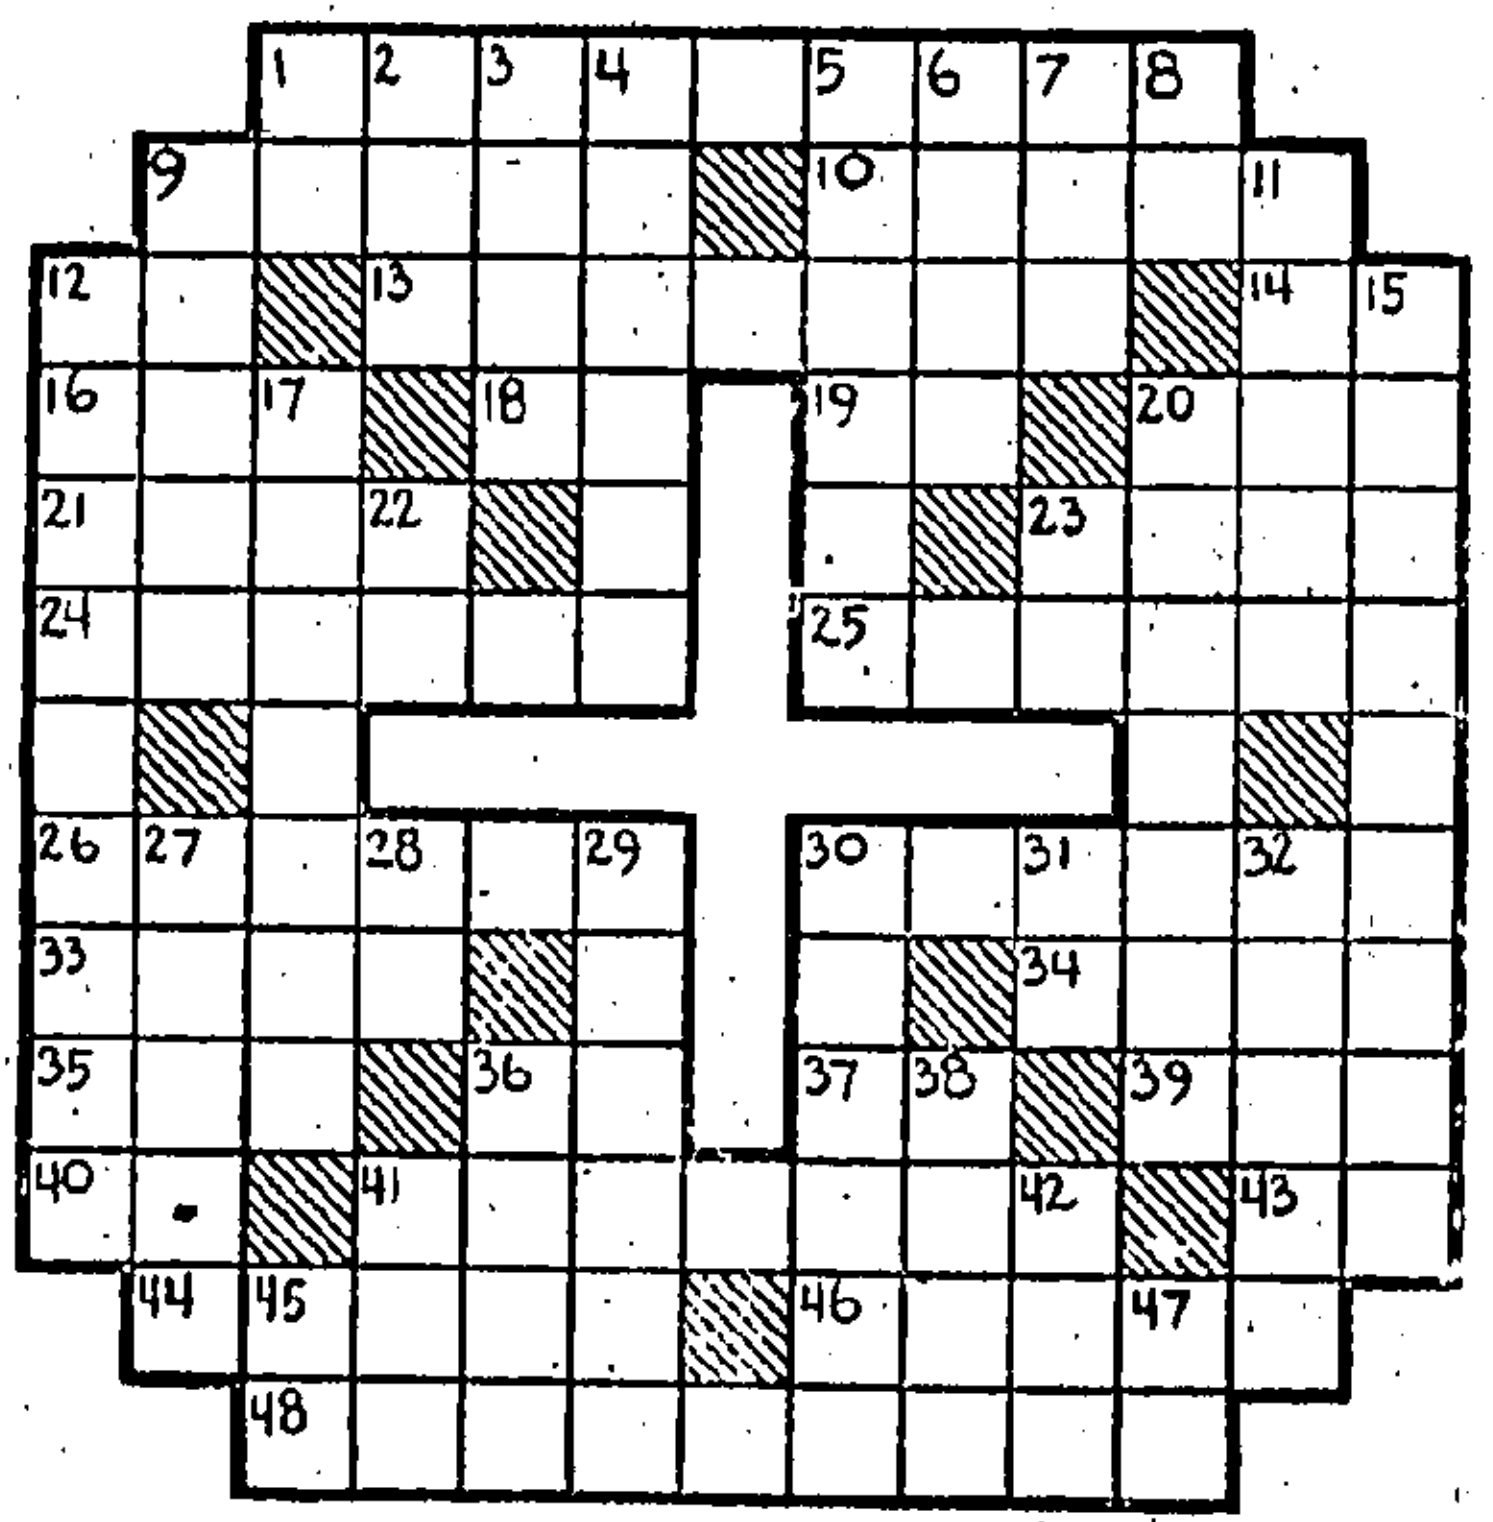

The return of the M-G-M all-talking production "Our Blushing Brides" at the Star Theatre, yesterday, attracted full houses. The film is a sequel to "Our Dancing Daughters" and "Our Modern Maidens." The cast of players is headed by Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery, who are most ably supported by Raymond Hackett, Anita Page, John Miljan and Dorothy Sebastian. The story tells of the doings of three shop girls, one being careful with men, whilst the other two just crave for luxury and not real love! The settings are extremely modern, and a beautiful mannequin parade is depicted, with Miss Crawford in the leading light.

Right to Security.

The German Foreign Minister on September 12, at the plenary assembly of the League of Nations, clearly enunciated the German claims for the Disarmament Conference in a manner not to be misunderstood. One can sum these claims up in a few words: absolute equality of rights for Germany, that is, equal rights regarding security and equal rights concerning the methods of disarmament. In themselves these principles are a matter of course. "The foundations of the League of Nations," says M. Briand's Europe Memorandum, "are the sovereignty of States and the equality of their rights." But what could be more in contradiction with the sovereignty of a State than if one rendered it unable to defend its territories against alien attacks and invasions? And what is less in harmony with the equality of rights than that different laws should be applied to the States who were defeated in the Great War than to the other States?

The authors of the Treaty of Versailles have not contested Germany's right to security. On October 3, 1919, M. Andre Tardieu, in the French Chamber, stated that one had had to leave an army and fleet to Germany in order that the other States of the League of Nations should not be faced by the necessity to have to defend German territories against alien attacks. And even previously, in the course of deliberations on Germany's disarmament, the American Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing, and the British Premier, Mr. Lloyd George, emphatically emphasised that Germany had a right to defend herself. Even now, 12 years after the signing of the peace treaty, it is asserted that Germany and her allies are faced by a Europe armed to the teeth. Germany's right to security is based on a demand that those States begin to fulfil their Versailles promise of disarmament, who hitherto have unceasingly increased their military power and whose army expenditure has constantly grown. The principle that in future there shall be no inequality regarding disarmament has begun to penetrate the public opinion of the world. The Conference of the International Association of the League of Nations' Unions at Budapest, the Church Conference at Cambridge, and the Paris resolution of the Rotary Club have reached decisions to the effect that the principles of limitation and reduction of armaments must be the same for all States. If it has been shown that those principles according to which Germany and her allies are disarmed lead to disarmament, it is only logic that they be applied to all States. And if these principles cannot lead to general disarmament, they should be replaced by better ones, which can be applied to all States.

The draft of a disarmament convention is to be submitted to the Disarmament Conference. The German War Minister asserts that this draft does not take into account the principle of equal rights. It comprises neither the trained reserved corps nor the stored material on which the enormous war forces of the big military Powers are based. Its unmodified acceptance would not promote the great idea of disarmament, but would bury it for ever. Germany has declined this draft and cannot recognise it as a basis of the Disarmament Conference.

Germany has disarmed and in Geneva will struggle to the utmost for general disarmament. With some of the States which to-day are highly armed the resistance raised against the fulfilment of the obligation of general disarmament is very great. But General Groener cannot believe that the public opinion of the whole world would tolerate a break of that promise of general disarmament, involved in the military stipulations of the Treaty of Versailles. The responsibility of those who would not shrink from perpetrating such a breach of confidence would be gigantic. Not only the existence of the League of Nations, but the whole future peaceful development of the world would suffer thereby. Germany, by her whole present situation, is called upon to be the champion of general disarmament. At the Disarmament Conference next year Germany will struggle strenuously for her equal rights and security and for the fulfilment of the hopes of peace of all nations and of general disarmament. That is the German case as regards disarmament. It will be interesting to see how her Continental neighbours respond to her War Minister's arguments.

From Other Pens.

The Winged Horse Speaks.

Time was, and not many years removed, when the expression "horsepower" was generally accepted as a unit of energy, just as "having horse sense" implied a compliment no wise man would disclaim.

In fact, the horse—slow or fast, brown or gray—held an honoured place in the affections and vocabulary of the people which in this day of changing transportation methods is rapidly becoming a memory. Equine phrases once accepted as enlightening symbols of speech are greatly in need of repair to-day, if indeed they can be saved from the wreckage left by the advancing wheels of motorized progress.

Dobbin once "stood without hitching" and "felt his oats," terms readily transferred to the activities of his owner. Everyone understood the allusion. That same farmer sometimes forgot, "took the bit in his teeth" and "kicked over the traces" in imitation of his barnyard companion.

When anyone rushed to unwarranted conclusions and mixed up his logic, what better phrase to express his state of mind than to say he "put the cart before the horse"? Since the days when Dobbin galloped along the road, the popular vocabulary has become "a horse of another colour." Now it is filled with the jargon of whirling machines, the symbolism of speeding motorcars, the cryptic language of the winged steed of the skies.

Nothing better indicates the revisions constantly taking place in current speech than the popularity of new words employed to tell the story of modern transportation. But another story records the waning lustre of expressions once associated with the pleasant experience of harnessing up Dobbin for a buggy ride down a country lane.—Christian Science Monitor.

Back to Blood-Letting?

It is rather unexpected to learn from the report of the British Red Cross Society that middle-aged and elderly people are enrolling as volunteers for blood transfusion, as the result of younger relatives' reports of the feeling of fitness that follows a transfusion. The notion would, however, have caused no surprise to the cuppers and bleeders of a hundred years ago, who firmly believed in bleeding for everything from a headache to heart failure. Perhaps we are on the eve of a return to blood-letting as a sovereign remedy. After all, some aspects of medical practice do tend to run round in rings—powdered tond and essence of earwig may have disappeared from the prescription-books, but some of the developments of gland therapy bear a slight family resemblance to the hopeful messes manufactured by mediaeval specialists.—Manchester Guardian.

Golden Rules.

This old world has been given many rules of life. In my impatient youth I used to wonder at the untiring energy of the great, wise, and eminent in producing maxims, exhortations, laws, mottoes, and so forth.

Melancholy experience has shown me that a great many of my fellow-creatures love maxims and delight in edifying mottoes. I do not understand, but I am equally willing to admire your slogan which is more gross horse sense or sticky sentiment.

They have had a competition for the best rules of life in Sweden, and here is a whole batch. They instruct you that you must never complain; you must be patient with those who do, you must never have nerves. But you must not expect too much of your friends, and you had better not trust people any longer than you are quite safe.

On the other hand, you must never be sparing of kind words, and take care to learn the art of being pleasant to everybody. These were in the best rules Sweden could get. I should like to see some of the worst.—H.C.B. in the Daily Telegraph.

News in Brief.

The lowest open air temperature yesterday was 70 degrees. The humidity was 56 at 10 a.m. and 38 at 4 p.m.

Lau Kai-mec, (18), of 10 Kwai Wah Lane, was taken to hospital yesterday suffering from burns to his face caused through the explosion of a kerosene lamp.

Mr. L. J. Ribeiro, living at 7, Gordon Terrace, has notified the Police that on Saturday night whilst attending a party at 4, Observatory Villas, some person stole from the dining room, a lady's wrist watch, valued at $600.

Full houses were the order of the day, yesterday, at the King's Theatre, at the first day's showing of the Fox film "Women of all Nations." The front and back stalls were completely sold out at all shows, while the dress circle was sold out entirely at 5.15, 7.15 and 9.30; at the 2.30 show there were only a few seats vacant. This creates a new record for the King's Theatre and gives Fox the leading picture which was held before by the opening Paramount picture, "Monte Carlo." Every one is advised to see this excellent picture.

JADE RING CASE.

PROSECUTION'S STORY.

(Central Police Court.)

The recent incident in the Caravan shop, Chater Road, had its sequel this morning, when, before Mr. E. H. Williams, there appeared two men, Chan Chiu and Leung Kwai, charged with conspiracy, of new words employed to tell the story of modern transportation. But another story records the waning lustre of expressions once associated with the pleasant experience of harnessing up Dobbin for a buggy ride down a country lane.—Christian Science Monitor.

First defendant pleaded guilty to theft, and second defendant, through Mr. F. H. Sin, entered a plea of not guilty to both charges. Outlining the case, Det-Serget Fitches said on the evening of October 21, the two defendants entered the shop, and the first asked a salesman about some dresses.

They then moved to the showcase, where they noticed the rings. The first defendant enquired about some rings, and overhearing this, the manageress came over to them from her desk, which was nearby. The manageress and the salesman stood close to the rings which had been drawn from the showcase. After examining two or three rings, and having had them priced, they did not buy any. They did not, however, examine the ring, which formed the subject of the charge.

First defendant then asked for a wedding dress. The manageress and the salesman discussed the matter between them and, on turning back, discovered that the ring was missing. The two defendants were then leaving the shop, the first defendant leading. Suspicious, the salesman went after them, and caught the first defendant about four yards from the entrance.

Both were brought back to the shop, and on ascending the steps, the salesman noticed the first defendant attempting to pass the ring to his companion. The salesman made a grab, but nothing more was seen of the ring. One of the other folks of the shop, then blew a whistle and European police arrived on the scene. The defendants were interrogated, and the ring was picked up on the steps, about where the first defendant had tried to pass it on.

The salesman recollected that second defendant, about a week before, went to the shop and enquired about a lady's silk scarf, and was told that they did not have any. The salesman could identify him.

When arrested, first defendant had $2.09 in his possession, and the second defendant $1.50.

Evidence was then taken, after which the case was remanded.

Mr. MacDonald Raises Curiosity. London, Yesterday. What high post overseas has Mr. MacDonald refused to accept?

This question is inspired by a remark made in a speech by the Prime Minister at Seaham, when he said: "You are being told that if I returned to Parliament I am going for some important post across a bit of sea. I have already had the opportunity of taking that position and refused it."

The newspapers surmise that the Premier is referring to India or to the Washington Embassy. Election Results When Available.

London, Saturday.

It is expected that the election results from 215 constituencies will be available late on Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning onwards. The counting in some University seats will take place later.

The result at Seaham, where Mr. Ramsay MacDonald has had a strenuous fight and where public interest is most keen, will be declared on Wednesday afternoon.—Reuter.

Henry Bagshot Swann, stock broker of 24, Old Broad Street, London, who died at 2, Chataworth Gardens, Eastbourne, Sussex, on May 27, 1931, left estate in the Colony valued at $37,500. Letters of administration, with will and codicil annexed, has been granted by the Supreme Court to Mr. M. H. Turner, solicitor, attorney for the executors named in the will, who all live in England. The executors are the testator's cousin and partner, Godfrey Holland, his partner George Falconer Bisset, and his son, Harry Huddard Swann, and on September 2, 1931, they executed a power of attorney in favour of Mr. Turner, following the granting of probate to them by the Principal Probate Registry of the High Court of Justice, England, on July 29, 1931. The will makes provisions for the testator's wife, son, and other members of the family; and among other bequests are $500 each, free of duty, to the Stock Exchange Benevolent Fund, and the Stock Exchange Clerks' Benevolent Fund.

In the matter of the local estate of Walter Albert Hannibal who died at 5, Thorpe Manor, May Road, on July 30, 1931, the Supreme Court has granted letters of administration, with will annexed, to David Robertson Kinloch, sub-manager of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, the executor named in the will having declined to act. Testator, whose estate is valued at $26,700, at the time of his death carried on business here in the name of W. A. Hannibal and Co. In his will he bequeathed his residuary estate to his widow.

KOWLOON PADRE'S FAREWELL.

Tributes from St. Andrew's Church.

TWO PRESENTATIONS.

The Rev. Edward Allworthy Armstrong, B.A., Assistant Chaplain since October, 1929, preached his farewell sermon in St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, yesterday morning, in the presence of a large congregation.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. W. Walton Rogers, M.A.) and the Rev. E. A. Armstrong read the Lessons. Mr. Rupert Baldwin, A.T.C.L., was at the organ.

Basing his sermon on the words of St. Paul, "I thank God for all my remembrances," the preacher said he had never been happier in his life than at St. Andrew's and had made a host of friends. His association with its numerous activities were living memories which he treasured. His love for the Church had been so great that he had put his dreams on record. When he first arrived he had formed many ideas for St. Andrew's and a number of them fostered, by way of Mothering Sunday, the Nativity Pageant, the International Folk Dance, and Song, and the Old English Faire. He hoped these functions would be perpetuated in the future.

Continuing, the preacher said St. Andrew's Church should be a missionary Church, national and international. During his stay, he had had the opportunity of making friends with people of all nationalities.

Homeliness.

The Scout movement was purely British but it was, at the same time, international. He wanted to see St. Andrew's Church a family one, and homely to the lone one. There was no Church east of Suez like St. Andrew's for its homeliness. He wanted to see the Church uphold the traditions of beauty in music, hymns, and everything. It was a crime to teach children to grow up to love what was not the best for them. St. Andrew's was more like a Church at Home. Lay people at St. Andrew's Church had more responsibilities and powers than any people at Home. Finally, the destiny of St. Andrew's lay with its parishioners.

Evening Service.

The evening service was conducted by the Rev. E. A. Armstrong, whilst the Vicar read the Lessons and delivered an interesting sermon, in the course of which he referred to the present shortage of workers in the Ministry. From 1914 to the end of 1929 there was a drop of 5,000 workers, whereas there were 20,000 just before the War. At the present day there were between 15,000 and 16,000 men in the Ministry.

The full choir rendered the hymn "The Voice Said, Cry" as an anthem.

At the conclusion, a social hour was held in the Church Hall, when opportunity was taken by a large gathering for saying good-bye to the Rev. E. A. Armstrong, who is leaving the Colony on the N.Y.K. s.s. Chichibu Maru on Wednesday morning.

Among those present were the Vicar, who presided, members of the Church Council, and representatives of various branches of the Church's activities. The Rev. N. V. Halward, M.C. (who by agreement with the Council is giving a measure of help to the Church until further notice) and the Rev. L. N. Watkins were also present.

A musical programme was admirably given by Messrs. H. J. Best, Rupert Baldwin, J. W. Baldwin, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bishop.

Parishioners' Spokesman.

Mr. F. W. Stapleton (People's Warden) on behalf of the parishioners, thanked Mr. Armstrong for all that he had done, especially with the younger set of St. Andrew's. As Superintendent of the Sunday Schools, he had exercised much tact, and as Commissioner of Boy Scouts had given a lot of time. As Editor, he had brought the Magazine to a very high standard, and it had become more interesting. (Applause.)

Mr. J. W. Baldwin (Vicar's Warden) said he was very glad to have the opportunity of speaking on this occasion, not because Mr. Armstrong was leaving, but because they were expressing in a little way their thanks to him for all that he had done. Mr. Armstrong was not a very tall man, and he had not a tremendous amount to say. His sermons had been not too long, but very interesting, and he liked short hymns, which was rather good.

He had the pleasure, with Mrs. Baldwin, of meeting Mr. Armstrong in a restaurant at Leicester Square in June, 1929. He was in company with the Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Lindsay (formerly of St. Andrew's) and the Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Rogers (who were on furlough). At that time Mr. Armstrong had been offered and accepted the post of Assistant Chaplain at St. Andrew's Church. Those who had got to know him knew that he had been very thorough in his work and ministry in Kowloon and for St. Andrew's in particular. He had helped the Vicar in very many ways, and in brightening the services, making them more personal also. The Scouts and Girl Guides had a lot for which to be thankful. (Applause.)

Mr. Armstrong was the backbone of the organ fund, and the Old English Faire, the efforts of which were crowned with success. He expressed the hope that Mr. Armstrong would find work which was most suited to him, and wished him God-speed and good-bye.

Chinese Silk Scroll.

He asked Mr. Armstrong to accept a beautifully painted Chinese silk scroll, on behalf of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, as a token of their appreciation for what he had done. (Applause.)

Mr. Colin Carruthers, Secretary of the Church Council, endorsed the remarks made by the previous speakers, adding that Mr. Armstrong had left a permanent mark in that he had pushed up the intellectual level of the Church. (Applause.)

The Vicar said he would gladly endorse the genuine tribute paid to Mr. Armstrong. When he first arrived, he gave Mr. Armstrong certain sections of work to do, and this he had carried out most efficiently, faithfully, and thoroughly. Mr. Armstrong was responsible for the inauguration of the St. Andrew's Scouts annual service, which had proved most popular and helpful. (Applause.)

Replying, the Rev. E. A. Armstrong thanked the people most sincerely for their kind gift. He had never been happier in his life but, at the same time, he had been over two years away from his father and mother and he thought it was now time to go Home to them. He thanked the Vicar and Mrs. Rogers for their unfailing sympathy. The former had given him a pretty free hand, and that was what most curates enjoyed. He thanked everybody for their cooperation, and prayed that God would bless them. (Applause.)

Boy Scouts Gift.

Making the presentation of a beautifully white carved ivory ornament, on behalf of the St. Andrew's Troop of Boy Scouts, Second Patrol Leader A. L. Sanh said:

On behalf of the members of St. Andrew's Troop of Boy Scouts, I make this presentation as a memento of your great assistance to the troop, not only as Troop Chaplain but in Scouting generally during the past two years. As a Scout I know that we have found you ever ready and willing to help us in every possible way, and the Scouters of the troop have been in the same happy position. Our loss in your departure is very great, but we can only hope that the good work you have done will be held up in future. We also hope that you will always entertain most pleasant memories of your association with the Troop at troop meetings, picnics, hikes, and camps, and that later you may be able to look back and feel that all your labours were not in vain.

The Troop wish for every success for the future, an interesting happy and most successful voyage home, and that wherever you may be you will find joy in recalling those "Glorious days of wind and sunshine."

Have we known as boys at play Merrily camping out together Over the hills and far away? For the Troop I ask that you will accept this small gift of appreciation of all that you have done for us. (Applause.)

Pleasant Surprise.

Replying, the Rev. E. A. Armstrong said that the gift came as a pleasant surprise. He had been in Scouting for nearly twenty years, and this was the first presentation. He thanked the Scouts for their gift, and wished them every success in the future. (Applause.)

Musical honours were then sung, after which the gathering dispersed.

THEOSOPHY.

Lecture on "Christian Mysticism."

FUNDAMENTAL TRUTHS.

The lecture at the Theosophical Society on Thursday was on "Christian Mysticism," and the speaker said in part:—

My lecture of this evening is not for those who have found all the comfort and spiritual consolation in the teachings of the Churches as presented, for they have already found in their own way what will be most helpful to them in their attainment of their ideal: my lecture to-night is for those eager and earnest souls who are seeking the same spiritual comfort and consolation but who are dissatisfied with what is presented to them as Truth; those whose analytical and logical mind has to be satisfied before they will accept. Faith to such is a matter of mental realisation and not intuition.

It is for these that I speak to-night. You will remember the Master said to his disciples "To you it is given to understand, but to those I speak in parables" and so it has been throughout the ages. Every religion has had its esoteric or hidden side for those who were able to understand, and its exoteric side for the "man in the street." The present age has seen an extraordinary impetus given to man's mind, and man, therefore, refuses to accept that which he cannot understand.

The Theosophical teaching brings to the enquirer the inner meanings hidden in parables and allegories to explain the fundamental truths in every religion. A Spiritual Being.

There are some who think that religion is the outcome of man's experiences on the physical plane essentially based on fear. But religion in its true sense is the explanation of life, and man's position in the scheme of creation. We find on investigation that in every case the teachings of the founder of any religion are, and have been far in advance of the conception of its followers, i.e., in no case has religion improved by age but rather has been crystallised and distorted into Theological Systems.

Man essentially is a spiritual being sharing in, and being part of the Omnipresent Life manifesting in all creation and man's goal therefore is to find his conscious unity with this Life. Religion is the way to that goal and the founders of religion by their teaching and by their life have tried to show men the path they themselves have trodden to that realisation. The Christian religion is no exception to that rule. "To know God is life eternal" and as we live, move and have our being in Him, and as in His Omnipresence. He is within us, it is therefore possible to know God and not simply to believe in Him. The life of Jesus the Christ was an indication how we are to proceed in order to know the Father within us. He claimed to be one with the Father and attributed all his works to that Father in Him "Of myself I can do nothing. The Father in me, He does the works."

The Love Aspect.

The term "Christ" is mistakenly taken to be the name or title of office of the person Jesus, but the "Christ" is in reality the Christos the second or Love aspect of the Universal life whom we call God and to whom Jesus referred to as the Father in Heaven. This Christ aspect is latent in all men only waiting for its manifestation or birth. "My little children of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you." In Jesus, the "Christ" was born as it shall be in all men in course of time. The Apostles regarded Jesus "as one among many brethren." Jesus the Christ considered in this light becomes an "Elder Brother" who had found his Unity with His Spiritual self and incarnated to teach the way to liberation from the illusions of the outer self. He claimed nothing for Himself which He did not say that others shall attain. He wrought no miracles which He did not tell His disciples that they also could perform. Let us then consider this "Christ" Principle which is in all and the realisation of which is Life Eternal.

The Life of the man Jesus when studied esoterically gives us a clear history of the evolution of the soul.

KING OF KINGS.

Catholics' Celebration of Feast.

SPECIAL SERVICES.

The Roman Catholics of Hong Kong yesterday celebrated the Feast of the Kingship of Christ, and the Golden Jubilee of the Apostleship of Prayer in Hong Kong.

At 8 a.m. there was Pontifical High Mass in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, at which the Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Mgr. H. Valtorta, officiated, assisted by members of the clergy of various local religious orders, while a special choir was in attendance. The Blessed Sacrament was exposed for veneration throughout the day.

In the afternoon, the Bishop officiated at a Procession in the Cathedral compound, which was attended by thousands of the faithful. The procession made a complete circuit of the Cathedral building, and then halted in front of a specially erected altar, where Mgr. Valtorta gave the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Afterward the Cathedral was again circled, and then the procession retired into the sacred building where a sermon was delivered.

All the various Roman Catholic Associations were represented at the procession, as well as the children of the Convents and Colleges, the St. Louis Industrial School, the Seminarists, Boy Scouts, and Girl Guides, and there were a dozen little girls strewn flower petals. Eight men of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders formed a special Guard of Honour for the Blessed Sacrament. The Band and Choir also took part. The compound was effectively decorated with looped ropes of laurel leaves.

PENINSULA HOTEL.

New Programme in the Rose Room.

Les Dejeans and William Rimeles appeared on Saturday evening with a new and entertaining programme which included the following items: Dance of the Marines, Apache Dance, Rakkoko Dance, Hyla Louisa XV, Moaning Low and Final Dance.

They were accorded a hearty welcome by a crowd of more than 200 people among whom were noticed:

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pooley. At their table were: Com. and Mrs. Walker, Col. and Mrs. C. R. Saville, Capt. and Mrs. Mohr, and Capt. and Mrs. Marwick.

Further were noticed: Major and Mrs. N. C. Bennett, O.B.E., M.C., at whose table were Capt. and Mrs. Agnew Wallace, Capt. and Mrs. D. P. Grant, R. C. B. Anderson, Capt. R. G. Hyde, Lieut. Reper-Calbe, Lt. Younger, Lt. Church, Lieut. Keith-Murray, Lieut. Cape, Lieut. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Gordon. (Continued at foot of next column.)

tion of the soul from the human to the superhuman stage. The story as related in the Gospels, may or may not be quite accurate as an historical event, but the incidents woven into the life of the man Jesus are an accurate process of the unfolding of the life within through temptations and sufferings, crucifixion and death and the ultimate liberation from the illusions of the lower self.

Triumphant Rise.

His birth symbolises the birth of the Christ in each man, and as an aspect of the Eternal, it is of "virgin birth." His Baptism symbolises the washing away of the lower and worldly desires and the acquisition of the power to overcome the temptations of the lower self.

His transfiguration is the spiritualising of his physical emotional aspects and the bringing of these into harmony with the "Christ" within as an instrument for His fuller manifestation.

His Crucifixion and burial is the story of the ultimate elimination of the lower aspects of the personality and His Resurrection and Ascension are the story of man's final triumph over the grave of human illusions and the raising of the "Christ" within to the throne and the "Father in Heaven."

A Wonderful Story. Considered as such the life of the Christ is a wonderful story of the life of man and his ultimate goal. The atonement spoken of is in reality the At-One-Ment-the-Goal.

LESSON SERMON.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Hong Kong.

"Probation after death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 25.

The Golden Text was—"Verily, verily, I say unto you. The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live." (John 5: 25.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible—"Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise. This is now the third time that Jesus showed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead." (John 21: 12-14.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:—"This spiritual meeting with our Lord in the dawn of a new light is the morning meal which Christian Scientists commemorate. They bow before Christ, Truth, to receive more of his re-appearing and silently to commune with the divine Principle, Love. They celebrate their Lord's victory over death, his probation in the flesh after death, its exemplification of human probation, and his spiritual and final ascension above matter, or the flesh, when he rose out of material sight." (p.35).

'LEGAL' BEER FOR U.S.

But With Little
"Pep"

Washington, Sept. 15.
"Legal" beer may be drunk soon in the United States, but it will lack "pep." It is reported ed that the bankers are urging President Hoover to recommend beer with 8 per cent. of alcohol as a means of increasing revenue and employment.

The recommendations are understood to have been made in the course of long discussions last night at the dinner to which the President invited the Federal Reserve Board.

TO FLOAT BIG CUNARD.

Planning to Deepen
the Clyde.

A threatened disagreement between the Clyde Lighthouse Trust and the Greenock Harbour Trust over the deepening of the Channel for the new Cunarder, has come to an amicable conclusion.

Comment on the agreement was made by Mr. Sloan, chairman of the Clyde Lighthouse Trust, at a meeting of the Trustees in Glasgow.
Mr. Sloan pointed out that the Trust had approached the Greenock Harbour Trust for permission to deepen the river for the coming of the new Cunarder in course of construction in Brown's yard at Clydebank.

"We had some difficulty," continued Mr. Sloan, "but I am glad to say that arrangements have now been come to with the Greenock authorities, and the agreement is ready for signature to-day."

Chairman's Hope.

Mr. Sloan pointed out that engineers had made an initial survey of the river but it had been deemed advisable to delay the formal survey until just prior to the operations of the dredgers.

Mr. Sloan indicated that the revenue of the Trust still showed a falling off. The total deficit to the end of August was £2,881, but of that amount £1,815 was due to increased discount, leaving a deficit balance of £1,065 for the eleven months working. He hoped that things would take a turn for the better before long.

LOCAL RUGBY.

Kowloon Club "A" Successful.

At King's Park on Saturday, the Kowloon Rugby Club's "A" fifteen met the second fifteen of H.M.S. Medway and won a well-deserved victory by a try (3 pts.) to nil.

On the run of the play a draw would have been a fair result as there was very little between the two sides. Yet taking into consideration that Purvis of Kowloon was injured in the first half, necessitating his removal to hospital with injured ribs, the Kowloon forwards, although handicapped, played a rousing game and held the opposing eight well in check.

The game lacked the finer points of the carrying code, only now and again a bright run of play showed promise to be spoiled only by a bad pass forward or wild kicking.

The only score registered in the game was the result of a smart piece of work by Morris who seized the opportunity to snatch up a long throw-out and, running strongly, made straight for the line. When challenged by the Medway full back, Morris passed to Walters, who was up to take the pass, and secure the touch down. Frankham was not successful in obtaining full points.

Result:—
Kowloon "A" ... 3 pts.
Medway II 0 pts.

A Revolution in the treatment of Teeth

STEP BY STEP THE science of medicine advances. The clearer the picture of human ailments becomes, the more logical the treatment. Instead of intricate remedies, science now advocates simple additions to the diet. To-day, most human ailments can be traced to some deficiency in the diet. A deficiency of calcium (lime) in the system, for instance, is the cause of such diverse ailments as weak sensitive teeth, rickets in children, skin troubles of many kinds, irritable nerves, irregularities in the functions of womanhood, etc.

All these ailments may now be attacked in a logical, simple way by adding Kalzana tablets to the diet. Tooth decay, for instance, When your teeth are sensitive, and not hard and white, they simply show that your body does not contain enough calcium and no amount of cleaning will help you. Teeth are living parts of the body. They may be ill.

Take a few Kalzana tablets every day, then you are sure that your body gets the required Calcium in exactly the right combination. Kalzana has proved in thousands of cases that it will make teeth strong again by conquering the very cause of their weakness—lack of Calcium in the body. It will make your teeth strong and healthy, they will become white again and decay will be stopped.

Start a course of Kalzana to-day, then you can both feel and see how your health improves. Remember that Kalzana is not a drug, but an absolutely harmless lime-food.

SHARE SETTLEMENT EVE.

Market Opens Remarkably Strong.

SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCES.

The official summary issued by the Stock Exchange, to-day states:
In spite of the fact of it being the eve of the Settlement Day, the market opened remarkably strong, there being buyers for most of the speculative counters, which show a substantial advance on Saturday's rates.

Underwriters were in demand at $4.90, after sales at $4.90.
Raubs were wanted at $38.
Providents (old) were on offer at $5.00, but the new shares were in demand at $2.35.

Hotels (old) were in request at $15, but sellers required $15.20.
There were sales of the new shares at $14½.

Lands were done at $83¼, and at the close were to be obtained at $84.

Realities were in demand at $12.70, after sales were put through at $12¼.

Ewos were in demand at $16.

Trams, which were done at $21¼, closed in demand at this quotation.

Star Ferries were wanted at $91.

China Lights were put through at $27½, but at the close were in demand at $27¾, with sellers asking $28.

Electricies were put through at $78½.

Telephones (part paid) were the medium of sales at $29½.

Cements (combined), were dealt in at $19.30, and they closed wanted at $19.20.

Watsons were in demand at $15½.

Constructions (old) were in request at $4.90, and the new shares were also in demand at $1.25.

Government Loan was in demand at $5 per cent. premium.

MOTOR MISHAP IN TAIPO ROAD.

TWO LADIES DETAINED IN HOSPITAL.

A motor accident, which, fortunately, did not result in serious injury to those involved, occurred on the Taiipo Road yesterday afternoon.

A party from the Kowloon Dock, comprising Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ramsay, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Provan and their two children, were going in the direction of Taiipo, when the car failed to respond to a change of gear on going up Reservoir Hill, and on a bend on the road struck the side, giving its occupants a bad shaking.

The most serious injury suffered was by Mrs. Ramsay, whose leg was injured. Mr. Ramsay, who was driving, was cut about the face.

The Police were informed of the mishap and conveyed the occupants of the car to the Kowloon Hospital for treatment. Mrs. Ramsay and Mrs. Provan, who were suffering from shock, were detained.

MORAL DEFEAT FOR JAPAN.

representatives, who he said had manifested much goodwill during the deliberations, to urge on their governments to do nothing to aggravate the "conflict," and he hoped that the difficulty would be disposed of by November 16.

Senor Madariaga hoped that the co-operation of the United States Government would continue. Mr.
Pretice Gilbert returned thanks for the many warm tributes to the United States by the speakers, with which sentiment Dr. Sze heartily associated himself.

The Council then adjourned until November 16.

It is thought that the next meeting of the Council will be in Paris, but that is not yet certain.

At the close of the proceedings Dr. Sze commented that he was living in hopes.—Reuter.

Resentment in Japan.

Tokyo, Yesterday.

There is nation-wide resentment being expressed at the League's refusal to accept Japan's counter proposals and insistence on Japanese withdrawal by November 16.

While recognising that the League resolution indicates that China has apparently gained the moral support of the world, official circles appear to be confident that the League will finally come to recognise the justice of Japan's stand; but whether it does or does not, it is emphasised that Japan regards the outcome of the dispute as a matter of life and death, and consequently her stand is unalterable, even if it becomes for Japan contra mundum.

Mr. Yoshizawa's failure to explain the meaning of "fundamental principles" has caused obvious embarrassment in official quarters, and for the purpose of rectifying the matter the Government is drafting a statement clearly enumerating, and at the same time clarifying,
the whole position, while reiterating
Japan's former pledges.—Reuter.

Melancholy Situation.

London, Yesterday.
"Will either Japan or China or both resign from the League of Nations before November 16?"
This is the melancholy question asked by The Observer, in reviewing the developments at Geneva.

It says that a further disturbing circumstance is that many serious minds in Geneva, considered the expediency of staking the League's existence on the immediate application of Article 15 against Japan, but "such notions fill realistic people with alarm."

At best it would produce for certain the Japanese secession from the League and defeat the purpose of the Disarmament Conference, except in the unlikely event of the boycott succeeding in enforcing the withdrawal of the Japanese troops.—Reuter.

"THE BABY IS BORN."

U.S. and France and Gold Standard.

LAVAL-HOOVER TALKS.

Washington, Yesterday.
"The baby is born," smilingly declared an Under-Secretary, producing a momentous communique of the Laval-Hoover conversations, which have covered the whole field
of international affairs.

The communique emphasises the necessity for Franco and America maintaining the gold standard, express hope for the success of the Disarmament Conference, and recognises that an international financial agreement is necessary before the expiration of the Hoover debt holiday concerning which the initiative should be taken at the soonest date possible by the European countries principally concerned.

An "informal discussion" served to outline the nature of the problems, no commitments were undertaken and no definite programmes formulated, but "we find we view the financial economic problems in the same light, and this understanding should pave the way for helpful action through our respective Governments."

Bonds of Friendship.

My conversations with Mr.
Hoover will renew Franco-American bonds of friendship, and the result will be good for the world, declared M. Laval, in a farewell address before sailing for France.—Reuter.
